

NEWS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

Cultural and Healing Program – Call for Applications

(April 11, 2022, Rankin Inlet, Nunavut) Nunavut Tunngavik Inc. (NTI) is pleased to announce a call for applications for the Nunavut Tunngavik Foundation (NTF) Cultural and Healing Program. Inuit can apply for project funding for 1) programs that address the harms and intergenerational effects of residential schools 2) traditional on-the-land programs 3) the teaching of Inuit history, culture, languages and traditions.

Individual and groups of Inuit enrolled under the Nunavut Agreement, non-profit organizations, educational institutions, urban and friendship centers and early childhood centres are eligible to apply for up to a maximum of $25,000 towards any of the above listed programs. Nunavut residency is not a requirement; however approved projects must target a minimum of 75% Inuit Enrolled under the Nunavut Agreement.

The application period is open from April 11 to May 6, 2022 to allow time for eligible applicants to develop and plan for programs running during the spring and summer seasons.

More information, policies, and application forms are available at Culture and Healing Program

-30-

For further information:

Lucy Maynard
Program Officer
Nunavut Tunngavik Foundation
Tel: (867) 645-5400/Toll-free: 1-888-236-5400
foundation@tunngavik.com
www.tunngavik.com